

I am opposed to greater concentration of media control. Diversity of opinion, lively political debate, and multiple sources of information are crucial to a free and prosperous nation.